

FOUR THOUSAND WORKERS IN COUNTY VICTORY LOAN DRIVE

CAPTAIN CHARLES SCHALL, IRON DIVISION CHAPLAIN, SPEAKS IN CONNELLVILLE

Keen Interest is Expected to Be Aroused in Helmet Contest.

VICTORY LOAN REAL TEST ARMY TANK IN THE CITY

Boys Who Want to Front Offered Lives If Necessary, Vice Chairman Carr Points Out Now Up to People to Loan of Their Money for the Cause.

They're off. Four thousand Liberty Loan workers today commenced a house to house canvass in every section of Fayette county selling four year Victory bonds at four and three quarter per cent. Each solicitor has been assigned a certain territory. It is the duty of each solicitor personally to see each prospect and to make a report, either favorable or otherwise, upon that prospect card.

With the "zero hour" this morning, competitions were opened for the captured German helmets assigned to the Victory Loan committee for distribution. Helmets will be given each to the first ten team captains making a report upon 80 prospect cards. There will be a lively scramble for the first "Over the top" helmet offered to the first three districts attaining their quota. Solicitation of a number of business houses was also commenced this morning with a view to laying claim to the helmets offered to one hundred per cent industrial firms with more than 25 employees.

Plan of the Loan committee to place German helmets in Fayette county schools as a prize to pupils whose schools made the best Victory Loan record was explained this morning in hundreds of schools. Competition will be keen among the schools for those prizes and great interest is expected to be developed in the latter city contest between the high schools of Uniontown and Connellsville as well as for the possession of the helmet offered to the Uniontown and Connellsville graded schools, one helmet being given to the building in each city making the best Victory percentage.

"The Victory Loan is a test of character which did not come while the war was on," Vice Chairman W. Russell Carr asserted in a statement issued Sunday evening. He pointed out that the boys who won the war "gave us all they had, every ounce of brain and brawn, the cheerful endurance of every hardship, the pain of grievous wounds, and the last supreme sacrifice. These boys lent their lives to us at 20 per cent and many lost their capital. Will we at home decline to lend our money at 4 3/4 per cent with no risk of loss?"

SERG. RICHEY LOSES LEG

Amputation Necessary for West Side Soldier Hurt in Accident.

Sergeant Eugene Richey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richey of Eighth street, Greenwood, who was injured in a motorcycle accident some months ago, had to have his leg amputated below the knee as the result of the accident, in a base hospital at Fort Snelling, St. Paul, Minn., where he has been since meeting with the accident.

Sergeant Richey was riding on a motorcycle and collided with an automobile. Several operations were performed in hopes of saving his leg, but with no avail. He is attached to the Fourth Aero Squadron and has been in the service in the States for some time, enlisting soon after the war began. He has a brother, Sergeant Walter Richey, with the Headquarters Company, 11th Infantry, in France.

Local Campaign is Formally Launched at Masonic Temple Dinner.

Armored Instrument of War Arrives at Noon and is Escorted Through Streets by Connellsville Military Band; Townships Are Lining Up.

The drive for the last war loan goal started at noon in Connellsville, when the various canvassing teams assembled at the Masonic temple for the first lunch and to receive final instructions. Nothing was done this morning but from noon on the canvassers became active and will not cease their efforts until the district bells began a din at 9 o'clock this morning significant of the opening of the campaign.

The feature of the dinner today was a talk by Chaplain Charles Schall, formerly of the 110th Infantry, 28th Division. He came here by special request and left immediately after the lunch was served.

The Connellsville Military band paraded the city streets this morning and gave concerts in various parts. Many persons were on the streets waiting the arrival of the tank which was due to come at 11 o'clock and the band concerts attracted large crowds. The tank arrived at 12:30 o'clock. An exhibition in the Hogg fields was scheduled for about 1:30.

Saltlick township is now ready to go into the drive under full steam. Ralph Hostetler is heading the work in that township with I. L. Sparks who formerly was manager in previous campaigns, as his assistant.

Oniopolis has not been heard of yet today but word on Saturday was that the workers in that community would organize immediately.

Supplies have been somewhat slow in arriving at the county headquarters in Uniontown which has resulted in a delay in getting them out to the various districts. More were received this morning, however, and are being mailed today.

V. M. Rankin, cashier of the Central National bank of Wilkensburg, and a member of the speakers' committee of Allegheny county, arrived in the city this morning under orders to join the tank here and continue with it on the remainder of its journey. The speaking crew with the tank at present consists of Cleveland men.

80TH HOMEWARD BOUND

Moving Toward Port of Embarkation; Members Elated in Consequence.

A letter received at The Courier office from Private Ralph F. Sliger of Company H, 319th Infantry, states that on March 22 the regiment was preparing to move to an embarkation center at any moment.

"The weather is very bad," says Ralph, "just now. It does not improve we will have pretty rough hiking to the rail head, but 'I should worry,' as we are Homeward Bound."

Enclosed with the letter was a clipping from the Stars and Stripes which states that "the 80th Division claims it leads all others of the First Army in the number of students enrolled in its schools. In addition to the special schools of instruction in military subjects, men of the division are attending the Universities of Oxford, Deane and the Sorbonne on detached service." For those on duty with the division, Major General Sturges has caused a post school to be established in each of the 48 towns in the division area. Approximately 6,000 men are attending the schools within the division, and some 300 officers and men on detached service are attending universities in France and England.

CAR ROBBER SAYS WAY FROM LOCKUP AND MAKES ESCAPE

Two Train Riders Also Leave When Richard Walker Opens the Way.

SAW SMUGGLED TO BASTILE

Jail Breaker One of Number Charged With Looting Cars in the Baltimore & Ohio Yards Here; Had Been Allowed Freedom of the Corridor.

Locked up on a charge of robbing Baltimore & Ohio freight cars Richard Walker of South Connellsville broke jail between 9 and 10 o'clock last night, making his getaway when he sawed through the bars of a window of the city prison. Two other prisoners, arrested for train robbing, also escaped at the same time. Others running loose in the corridor did not attempt to get away. None of the three men has been retaken.

Walker was locked up early Saturday morning by the Baltimore & Ohio police. He was allowed the freedom of the corridor instead of being confined to a cell. During the day he secured a saw in some manner and went to work on the window. The officers believe the saw was passed to him from the outside.

He did not attract the attention of the police by his efforts on the window, as he worked on the opposite side of the cell room from the door. When he finally sawed through one bar he bent it back and got through the window without difficulty. It is not a far jump from the window to the ground beneath and this was easily negotiated.

After Walker had climbed through, two other men, Solomon Mashkevich and Joe Genero, both arrested for riding "blind baggage" on Baltimore & Ohio passenger train No. 10, also got out. Then another prisoner called the officers but it was impossible to locate the fleeing men in the dark.

This is the third jail delivery in recent years. Some time ago the bars were sawed and a man escaped, and shortly before that the same thing occurred.

Measles Case Reported.

BROKEN BACK IS LITTLE HANDICAP TO THIS SOLDIER

George Whipple, Mount Pleasant, is Inconvenienced Only When on Long Marches.

MOUNT PLEASANT, April 21—George Whipple, who was with the Rainbow Division, has been discharged from Camp Dix, N. J. He was wounded by shrapnel.

Six years ago as Whipple was driving a wagon under the trees at Standard he was caught and his back broken. He was taken to the Memorial hospital and after three months' treatment there, by Dr. W. A. Marsh, was discharged as cured. When the draft came Dr. Marsh, a member of Local Board No. 6 and examining physician, after carefully examining Whipple, passed him and he was sent to Camp Lee and there volunteered his services for the 42nd or Rainbow Division. He left Camp Merritt with this famous division.

Whipple endured all the hardships that go with soldiering, being in the trenches for 23 days at one time. In the trenches his back did not give him much trouble but when he took long hikes with the pack soldiers carry he experienced his only trouble. Whipple states that every one of his 12 months in the service was worth the fight he put up to go despite the fact that his back had been broken at one time.

MILITIAMEN GUARD COURT AS TRIAL OF MURDERER OPENS

Virginia Officers Seek to Prevent Repetition of Hillsville Affair.

KILLED A MAGISTRATE

Since Then Threats Have Reached Officials of Circuit Court That the Friends of Edgar Morris Would Attempt to Free Him During Trial.

By Associated Press.

STANDARDSVILLE, Va., April 20—State troops were on guard today when the circuit court convened to take up the case of Edgar Morris, son of a Greene county deputy sheriff against whom there are two charges of murder and who is said to have threatened a reputation of the Hillsville affair of seven years ago when the Allen clan of mountaineers shot up the Carroll county court.

Morris was arrested late in December on a charge of killing another man at a dance. He was bailed by his father. On March 29 he was arraigned in Magistrate Sullivan's court and fined $20 for creating trouble at a church but as the sentence was pronounced he shot and killed the magistrate and escaped to the mountains in an automobile which he commandeered.

Reports were that Morris had planned to come to court today and give himself up so that his bond, on which his father is security, would not be forfeited but a band of his friends from the mountains were to swoop down as did the Allens and free him. The authorities appealed to Governor Davis and the Albemarle Rifles of Charlottesville were ordered by the governor to be on hand during the session of the court to afford protection. The militia, three officers and 53 men, arrived last night.

GERMANY MANEUVERING TO GAIN POWER, IMPRESSION; NOT ACTING IN GOOD FAITH

GLOWING TRIBUTE PAID TO COMPANY D BY CAPT. SCHALL

"Hold Your Heads So High They Strike the Stars," He Tells Loan Workers.

KNOW BOYS INTIMATELY

Members of Connellsville Command Commended Especially for Conduct at Oureg River; Tells of Drive Which Broke Back of Hun Army.

"You people in Connellsville can walk up and down the streets in pride and hold your heads so high they strike the stars for the bravery displayed by your men of Company D on the Oureg river," said Chaplain Schall of Greensburg, who was with the 110th Infantry in that engagement, speaking at the noon lunch of the Victory-Liberty Loan canvassers at the Masonic Temple today.

Captain Schall, who went through every engagement with the 28th Division, knew many local boys intimately and highly commended the Connellsville command as he did the other American units.

"The men who died over there gave the most precious and costly thing a man can give—life. That very sacrifice is a tremendous challenge to the people of America. He fought God's war. It was a war of Heaven against Hell. You will now do your very best to supplement what they have done."

Chaplain Schall gave an outline of the engagements as they were participated in by the 28th Division. The battle of the Argonne forest was the hardest of the war, he said. "We were advised against making an advance there," he said, "but we decided to attack. It was the indomitable American spirit. We were beginning to get our supplies from the United States. We had plenty of ammunition, big guns, tanks and airplanes, but better than all that we had the sense of overcoming power."

"Then we learned how this great country of ours was aroused and how the people back home were going over the top in every war drive. We began a bombardment that went from the North Sea to the Swiss border. It seemed all the artillery of Heaven and earth could not have made so much noise. We got over promptly and were supported admirably by our tanks. The fight lasted for two weeks. There were the sacrifices that were the most costly on the altar of freedom."

"From the looks of you men I don't think there is need of anything to stimulate your efforts. You will go into this job with earnestness and I believe you will go over the top with your portion of the quota."

Allies Will Decline to Receive Peace Delegates Lacking Full Power.

TREATY NOT YET READY

Will be Physical Impossibility to Have it in Form for Presentation to Enemy Envoys by Friday; Contents Will be Made Known to Them.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, April 21—This morning's newspapers see in Germany sending "Couriers" instead of delegates of proper standing to Versailles nothing but evidence of bad faith, and a maneuver to gain power. The Echo d'Paris says:

"The allied and associated governments are determined not to accept subordinate personages and Germany will be immediately notified that she must send delegates equipped with full power to conclude peace. Upon their arrival at Versailles the first step will be to demand from them evidence that they hold those powers."

BERLIN, Saturday, April 19—The cabinet devoted less than half an hour to the formulation of its answer to the Entente's invitation to Versailles for the purpose of receiving a draft of the peace terms. A feeling of gloom prevailed in official circles tonight and the Associated Press is told that there are no illusions as to obtaining any mitigation in the dictatorial peace awaiting Germany. The procedure of the council of four came as a surprise, notwithstanding the fact that the news for the past week foreboded it and it is interpreted in cabinet circles and at the foreign office as final proof that the Entente is disinclined to enter into negotiations based on President Wilson's 14 points and that the terms awaiting Germany are cut and dried.

The German emissaries will merely have instructions to carry the peace document back to Berlin. The question whether the present government will assume the responsibility of accepting or rejecting the terms or whether it will present them for a national referendum is a matter of conjecture. Official opinion so far as added tonight, was opposed to the declaration of a referendum and in favor of a peremptory declaration of peace terms based on any other proposition than Mr. Wilson's platform.

PARIS, April 21—Grave doubts were expressed today whether the perfected peace treaty would be presented to the German representatives the coming Friday. While the treaty will be communicated to them in substance it was said in well-informed quarters that it would be physically impossible to prepare the document in its complete final form in the four days remaining.

Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando met again this morning in M. Clemenceau's office on resumed consideration of the Adriatic question. President Wilson again absent himself from the conference.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

EASTER IS GREAT DAY IN CHURCHES OF CONNELLSVILLE

"Over the Top" is Record in Practically All Fixing Attendance Goals.

LUTHERANS IN THE LEAD

Sunday School Numbers 764 and Accessions Bring Membership of Church Within Half Dozen of the Thousand Mark; Presbyterians, 678.

Favored by perfect weather the churches and Sunday schools of Conneltsville yesterday enjoyed a day almost unprecedented in attendance and general interest. Reports from the several pastors indicated that the churches were crowded for all services, but especially was the true at the morning church hour and the Sunday school sessions. Several schools which had set goals for Easter went over the top.

Easter proved to be a record in the history of Trinity Lutheran church. In the Sunday school 600 had been fixed as the goal. The attendance reached 764, with 310 in the class taught by the pastor, Dr. Ellis B. Burgess. Including the confirmation class of 42 there were 71 accessions to the church. Total contributions for the day amounted to $1,314.67. In the Sunday school at attendance by classes was:

Beginners department—Mrs. Vella Nemon, 13; Mrs. Lena Maden, 16; Miss Lois Zimmerman, 15; Mrs. George Potter, 8; Mrs. James Cunningham, 12; Mrs. H. C. Hoffman, 13.

Primary department—Mrs. C. W. Erbeck, 13; Mrs. C. H. Stouffer, 20; Miss Helen Heinrich, 8; Miss Margaret Hetzel, 9.

Junior Department—Miss Blanche Reagan, 11; Mrs. D. W. Percy, 16; J. E. Collins, 16; Jay Davis, 17; Kathleen Cable, 23; Rena Miller, 15; Mrs. J. H. Blittner, 8; Mrs. W. L. West, 6; Mrs. Carrie Blittner, 12.

Intermediate department—R. L. Werner, 9; Eleanor Sauter, 13; Mrs. Percy Sheets, 14; Lucille Cochran, 21; Jean Enos, 9; Mrs. C. J. Ellis, 9; Hilda Hirtleman, 18; Lucy Blittner, 12; Mary Blittner, 14; Mary Brickman, 12.

Adult department—Mrs. E. R. Photo, 42; Mrs. Ellis B. Burgess, 43; Dr. Ellis B. Burgess, 310.

The collection at the Sunday school for church extension amounted to $206.35.

At the 11 o'clock church service a feature was the singing of carols and a processional by 11 small girls.

In the class confirmed by Dr. Burgess were Bernice A. Shaw, Dorothy Landis, Frances Martin, Hilda G. Baker, Margaret E. Conway, Charlotte E. Winkler, E. Winkler, Irene L. Fabian, Jessie May Morris, Martha W. Dobrick, Janice F. Ruppach, Margaret L. Danielson, Elizabeth J. Danielson, Mary Thompson, Mabel W. Schabbe, Nada Dell Brown, E. Evalena Carlson, Christina Chaz, Blanch Mae Miller, Charles P. Scott, Byron E. Keller, Joseph Thompson, J. G. Byrne, J. Harold Christner, Henry E. Drenberg, Bernard W. Weller, Eddy O. Johnson, Leonard L. Cunningham, William Young Ellis, Eugene A. Carlson, Harold R. Bosley, Robert E. Bosley, Paul E. Hasselt, Claude A. Dodson, Carl O. Keck, George F. Kooser, Charles Edward Lowe, Andrew J. Drenberg, Frank W. Vincent and William H. Bosley.

Four persons were received into the church by baptism and 25 by certificate and profession. The membership of the church is now 294, or within six of a thousand.

During Easter week and on Easter morning the pastor baptized 21 children. Next Sunday morning baptismal and confirmation certificates will be distributed.

Contributions for the day at the church service were divided as follows: General fund, $189.80; building fund, $25.85; benevolences, $1,094.92. There were in addition to the $206.35 contributed at the Sunday school and brought the total for the day from all sources to $1,314.67.

In the evening an augmented choir rendered a cantata.

Presbyterians Exceed Goal.

The First Presbyterian church yesterday had the heaviest attendance in ten years or since Rev. J. L. Prouditt became pastor. Both the Sunday school and church services were well attended, all previous records being broken in each instance.

In the membership campaign the Sunday school went over the top for the second time with a total of 678 present. When this drive opened the goal was 500. That number was reached before the campaign was half over and a new goal of 650 by Easter Sunday was set. This was more than attained yesterday.

The regular services were conducted yesterday, with Easter music. Both sermons of Rev. Prouditt were pertinent to the occasion. In the morning he preached on "The Easter story of the world," and in the evening "Our Risen Lord" was his subject. The altar was surrounded by a profusion of Easter flowers.

The Christian Church.

At the Christian church the goal for the Sunday school was fixed at 550. That number was reached exactly. Contributions for the Sunday school amounted to $94.22, against an allotment of $43 for a special offering. The Men's Bible class, taught by Rev. George Walker Buckner, the pastor, led in attendance with 65. At all services the church was crowded.

Rev. in C. R. History.

Yesterday's attendance at the United Brethren church was the largest in the history of the church, Rev. J. S. Spowers, the pastor, said. There were 343 at Sunday school. Six new members were received and four persons were baptized.

An unusually large congregation heard Rev. Donald Kent Johnston, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal church in Uniontown, deliver a beautiful sermon last night in the Trinity Episcopal church house in East Fairview avenue. The Sunday school attendance was also large and during the session two prizes for the best attendance during the year were awarded. Miss Mildred Wengertner winning first prize and Stanley Under the second. The teachers, William Melhoney, Miss Gladys Hauke and Mrs. S. L. Mung, gave the school a treat of chocolate fruit eggs.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"PEGGY DOES HER DARNDIST"
—A Metro production starring Mae Allison, supported by Rosemary Theobald and other prominent screen stars. Being shown today, Miss Allison plays the role of Peggy, a girl full of life and spontaneous animation of a healthy youth. Scouring the usual occupations and amusements of her own sex she finds delight in the sports to which her brother is addicted.

Many School Children are Sickly Mothers who value their own comfort and the welfare of their children, should never be without a box of Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for children, for use throughout the season. They break up Colds, relieve Feverishness, Coughs, Teething Disorders, Headache and stomach troubles. Used by millions for over 30 years. THESE POWDERS GIVE SATISFACTION. All Drug Stores. Don't accept any substitutes.

ed. Football, boxing, fencing and hockey are among the favorites, while polo and speeding in a smart racing car come a close second. In direct contrast to Peggy is her sister, Eleanor, who is a coquette and very vain. She is fond of flirting and men, to her, are only means for her special pleasure and entertainment. The fact that Peggy could compete and rival her has never entered her pretty head for she considers her younger sister a hoyden and perpetual annoyance and disgrace to the family. How Peggy proves that she can use both her athletic powers and girlish charms to perfection is cleverly shown in the play, which is one long joyous adventure. The play is one which gives Miss Allison full scope for her many talents and ample opportunity to display her vivacious charm and winning personality. A selected comedy is also being shown, Tuesday Gladys Leslie will be seen in "Miss Dulce from Dixie."

THE SOISSON.

"THE REASON WHY"—By the famous English authoress, Elinor Glyn, and providing Clara Kimball Young, the celebrated actress, with one of the best roles of her screen career, is being presented today. Miss Young creates the role of Yvonne Macnobe, a widow, the murder of her husband, a cruel prefect of police, at the hands of an infuriated mob. As she is doing that night with her seven-year-old son Mim she comes upon a dead woman who resembles her completely, and on whose body she finds an invitation from her uncle. Francis Markrite, inviting her to live with him in London, although he has never seen her. Yvonne goes to London. There she meets and marries at her uncle's wish Lord Tancere of Wrayth hall. It is a case of mutual love at first sight, but after she overhears Markrite speak of her dowry her sentiments are chilled. Her husband misunderstands her actions and their underlying motives and it is only after a series of mishaps that she makes her confession and they discover their true love. "The Reason Why" is a remarkable photoplay involving English high society and produced in the excellent manner, which makes picture audiences enjoy and appreciate. Always noted for her beautiful wardrobe, Miss Young's gowns for this picture were chosen with especial care. Her leading man is Milton Sills, a renowned performer on both stage and screen. The production will also be shown tomorrow, as will a selected comedy.

SHOULD NOT BURDEN
Gas Companies When They Can't Secure Gas After Making Effort.
HARRISBURG, April 19.—When a natural gas company makes honest efforts to secure new sources of supply and is unable to do so because of the failure of natural gas in its territory, to compel it to make a more extended attempt to secure such supply "would impose upon it a greater expense than it should be called upon to make," said the Public Service Commission in an opinion handed down yesterday dismissing complaints against the Union Heat & Light company of Harrisville. The opinion, written by Commissioner Rilling, says the case presents a condition that will "to a greater or less extent present itself to other communities in Western Pennsylvania enjoying natural gas service."
The complaint alleged that the service was "inadequate and that it discriminated. The company operates in Mercer, Butler and Venango counties.

"TO REDEEM IN FULL FAITH."

Beginning today teams composed of the best men in the several communities of the United States will enter upon the task of raising $1,300,- 00,000 for the government through selling subscriptions to the Fifth

Victory Liberty Loan.

The membership of these teams is practically the same as that through whose activities the preceding loans were made such conspicuous successes. At the sacrifice of their individual interests they have unselfishly given time and energy to the work in hand. In their present quest they are merely giving you and all other residents of the community an opportunity to make the safest investment in the world.

Your duty in the matter is plain,

and you understand what it is. Although the fighting in the war has been gloriously finished by the boys who went Over There, we have not finished our part in the great undertaking and will not have finished it until we have provided every dollar

Uncle Sam is calling for. When the boys entered the service they agreed to stay on the job for the duration of the war. Their term of enlistment has now expired, having completed the task set out to do. We, too, are enlisted, not alone for the duration of the war but until there has been a re-establishment of peace and the boys are safely back home and restored to the places in civil life made vacant by their call to the colors.

With the magnificent record to our credit of having exceeded our quota on all previous loans there will be no question as to what we will do with respect to the last of the series.

But at this time, more than at any other during the loan campaign, must we be impressed with the fact that each and every person must do even more than his or her share to insure success. We were prompted by that spirit during the previous drives and it must still move us to action so long as obligations remain to be discharged.

We have learned much about how to save; have learned to do without many things previously thought to be necessary to our comfort. If, indeed, not also necessary to our existence.

We have applied our savings to the purchase of bonds and are now glad that we have done so. Realizing that the present is the last popular war loan to be floated by the government we ought to be glad that we still have opportunity "to redeem in full faith the promise" of the sacrifices of the boys who will not come back.

THE BANKS CAN'T DO IT.

It is really surprising how many experienced, conservative, presumably level headed folks are ready to try to convince the Victory Liberty Loan with the assertion that the banks must handle it. That the people cannot and immediately try to digram the situation by pointing to their individual cases. Emphasizing their own pressing need of money at the moment.

Forgetting that the money they need, if they get it, must come from the banks in the finality. That the banks must finance business and industry as well as at least as nearly as possible. Which means that when it comes to financing the Victory Liberty Loan as well THE BANKS CAN'T

DO IT.

Unless we are to have an unprecedented period of depression in business and industry the banks must be kept in a position to finance both.

Once the money support is cut off the bottom is going to drop out of everything.

The banks cannot drain their vaults of funds for the government and at the same time be able to finance the industries, the mercantile houses, the importers and exporters, the farmers, the homebuilders and all the vast array of business activity that spells

PROSPERITY for the United States and her people. It is utter foolishness to talk about it. It simply cannot be done.

The American people, if they want prosperity, better times, a continuation of the wages, and comforts they have enjoyed in the last few years, must decide right off the bat to make this last sacrifice a little more pinching if need be in order to see the country through the crisis passed.

It must practice a little stricter economy for another six months. We must cut the corners a little closer in our business affairs.

We must deny ourselves a little more than usual.

But we must take our share of the Victory Liberty Loan. We must not expect the banks to do it all. They simply cannot.

Our obligations to the wearers of Uncle Sam's khaki did not end with the signing of the armistice and will not even end with the signing of the treaty of peace. They must be brought home the bills contracted in their behalf must be paid, and you must pay your share.

Watch "the bunch" bunch their hits during the coming finals in the game.

"Giff" Pinchet has resumed his activity as dispenser of snuff.

A short horse is soon curried. Just so should the shortest Victory Liberty Loan quota for the Connelville district be met very shortly.

The weatherman was kind in giving us the kind of weather that added to the gladness of the day.

Let the Easter spirit fill your heart as you empty your pocket book for the Victory Liberty Loan.

Making box cars jalls instead of sources of plunder for thieves is not likely to become popular among the members of the pilfering craft.

The bond teams will put all the vim needed in the campaign. It is up to you to have such a vision of your duty

Help Bring the Boys Home—lot of other hits, and old Death will swing his cleaver if we don't buy yards and pits. Oh, the druggist smiles and whistles, as he labors all alone as he boils a lot of thistles, for this season is his own, he is brewing tea of tansy and of liverwort and leeks, flavored with a dash of pansy, and he chortles when he speaks. In the cure of ailments chronic our learned pharmacist delights, he is mixing up a tonic for our livers and our lights. For our blood is slow and sluggish, and we're breaking out with rash, and for notions dire and druggish we must blow our surplus cash.

And we need a hair restorer and an eye-wash for our phins; dope to stop the slight nose bleeding and threatening our limbs. So we see the druggist, wreath, back of his prescription case, with his mortar and his pestle, making dope to save the race.

THE VICTORY LOAN.

I thought The war is over now, the boys are coming back.

The boys have been overthrown, no more the Hun attacks.

The Stars and Stripes in safety wave against the summer sky.

There is no need of sacrifice, more bonds I will not buy.

And then a soldier passed my way,

his slight nose blurred and dim.

The time of war's grim sacrifice will never end for him.

The war is over! Soothing thought for those of us who stayed

We never faced the German guns nor heard a cannonade.

We never drank the poisoned air and shivered with the draught.

We lingered here from harm secure and toiled and sang and laughed.

But those who carry empty sleeves and these who wear the stars

Must pay the price of war until they pass beyond the stars.

The mothers of our glorious dead,

whose wounds shall never mend

When think you of their troubled hearts the sacrifice shall end?

When shall they settle back and smile and free from sorrow say:

The war is over. Peace has come, and Oh, they shall give to pay.

Oh, they shall give in tears and sighs

until their forms are cold,

We only can forget the war whose gifts

LAYTON DOWNS SMITHTON

Opening Ball Game Won Saturday by Latter by 2-0 Score.

The Layton ball team opened the season Saturday on the home grounds by defeating Smithton, 2-0. The features of the game were the work of Raley on the mound and Skinner at bat. To the last of the seventh inning it seemed impossible for either team to score, but with two men on base Skinner lined one to left field, winning for the Layton boys.

Layton will have a first class team on the field this year and will have home open dates for first class unformed teams.

War Veterans Band Leader Isn't Fussy About His Location

Lieut. W. J. James
The leader of the famous "War Veterans" Band of Ottawa, Canada, which is to make a tour of the Fourth Pennsylvania District on behalf of the Victory Loan campaign, does not seem to be a hard stand, light and music man. He is all business in order to give pleasure.

The band has been through one of the most strenuous and high explosive life in Ottawa and says that any inconveniences his band may encounter at cross road stops on the tour will be the luxury compared to playing in the hall.

The leader is Lieut. W. J. James. Lieut. James took the first Canadian band to France in 1914. Later he organized a band whose first assignment was to play Canadian music to welcome the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry to the Canadian lines near Rheims. The concert was held according to schedule and was a success in spite of the absence of either light band stand or sheet music.

MR. WOLF AND MR. BEAR TELL A LIE

As the sun was setting down over the hills, and turning the sky into gold, Mr. Bear stepped out of his cave stretched his arms, yawned several times and sat down to smoke.

"Hello, Mr. Bear," called a deep voice, and up stepped Mr. Wolf.

"Howdy, Mr. Wolf," said Mr. Bear, getting up from his chair. "Sit down and rest your legs and smoke a pipe with me. It's been a lonesome day and I'm hungry for company."

"I'll take advantage of your hospitality," said Mr. Wolf, lighting and settling himself beneath a tree. "and it's quite a pleasure I take in doing it. But tell me Mr. Bear, where did you get such a comfy and spacious home? Surely you must be worth a heap of money?"

"Well, Mr. Wolf," said Mr. Bear, puffing out his chest with pride, "I don't see it as a handsome place, but as for money, alas, I have none."

"Mr. Wolf," exclaimed Mr. Wolf, trying to look innocent and "and the high cost of living is making me a poor man."

Just then, Mr. Bear, who had been hiding behind the tree, stepped out, and who had heard the conversation, stepped out. Now it must be explained that Mr. Bear worked at the bank and so, of course, knew just how much money each and every person had.

"Good evening to you," said Mr. Bear, trying to hide a smile. "I am well both of you. A VICTORY LIBERTY BOND this evening? As you probably know, this will be your last chance to save money, and be patriotic to the haggles."

Mr. Wolf and Mr. Bear were so taken by surprise that they were speechless for a minute. Furthermore, they knew that Mr. Bear knew they had lied. Finally Mr. Bear said:

"Mr. Wolf, sooner or later, a liar is always caught, and this has taught me a great lesson. And if it is not too late you may like my subscription to the VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN right now."

"And," said Mr. Wolf, "I guess if Mr. Bear with his thousands of dollars can be patriotic I can be like-wise. And furthermore I wish to make amends for not buying before."

And then Mr. Fox and Mr. Wolf and Mr. Bear all sat around the fire that night and smoked their pipes, thankful that they had been blessed with the spirit of patriotism.

Canvass of Business Men Shows Victory Loan Cannot Fail

By CARTER GLASS,
With a view to determining the terms of the Victory Liberty Loan it has been my duty to inform myself not only concerning the surface conditions, which should be obvious to you businessmen and to every well-informed American, but also concerning the undercurrents affecting our financial and industrial welfare and which bear directly and indirectly upon the Victory Liberty Loan.

I have been engaged with the aid of the best minds at my disposal—and they include the members of the great War Loan Organization both at the Treasury in Washington and through the country which has so successfully and brilliantly supported the Treasury of the United States throughout the period of active warfare—in the study of these conditions and I am glad indeed to be able to write that as a result of that study I take a very optimistic view of the prospect for the Victory Liberty Loan and of the future of this country.

Bayonets vs. Bare Fists—That's In Big Marine Show

ACCOMPLISHMENT of defense are not limited in the bayonet instruction of the United States Marines because "Get Your Knife" in their motto and does not include giving an enemy a chance to attack first. The Marines always claim "the first and last blow which perhaps is why the Germans dubbed them "Teufel Hunden" or Devil Dogs.

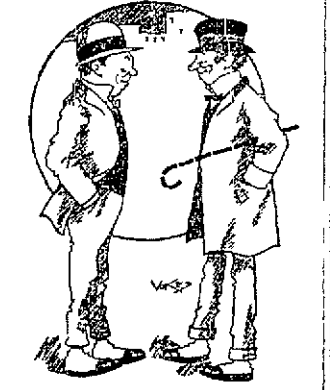

A detachment of these Devil Dogs, composed of twenty men, an officer and a bugler will travel through the Fourth Federal Reserve District during the Victory Loan campaign and put on a daily sham battle and bayonet drill. This detachment has just been assigned from the overseas depot at Quantico, to the Fourth District. Their commander, Lieutenant Edward B. Irving, says every man is a non-commissioned officer who has qualified as an instructor in bayonet work.

At every stop on their trip through the district, these Marines will stage a sham battle and bayonet drill showing the various thrusts and parries which made them so feared by the Hun at Chateau Thierry. One of their exhibition stunts is to have one Marine disarm the bayonet and rifle in the hands of another to it illustrate how it is possible to evade the blade of such an opponent and disarm him.

Another exciting feature of the Marine exhibition is a combat in which one Marine with no weapon but his ready fists faces and overpowers an opponent armed with a detached bayonet.

This feature is often far from bloodless as the zealous Marines put up so realistic a struggle that one or the other is sometimes severely cut and bruised.

GREEN FANCY

by GEORGE BARR
Mc CUTCHEON

Author of "CRAUSTARK," "THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND," "THE PRINCE OF CRAUSTARK," ETC.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Second Wayfarer is Transformed. O'Dowd returned late in the afternoon. He was in a hurry to get back to Green Fancy; there was no mistaking his uneasiness.

"For the love of heaven, Barnes, get her away from here as soon as possible, and do it as secretly as you can," he said. "I may as well tell you that she is in more danger from the government secret service than from anyone up yonder."

"She may prefer to face the music, O'Dowd. If I know her at all, she will refuse to run away."

"Then you'll have to kidnap her," said the Irishman earnestly. "There will be men swarming here from both sides of the border by tomorrow night or next day. It's the gospel truth, and it's going to be bad for all of us if we're here when they come."

"Who is she, O'Dowd? Man to man, tell me the truth. I want to know just where I stand."

O'Dowd hesitated, looked around the taproom, and then leaned across the table.

"Miss Cameron is in reality the Countess Therese Maria-Dufanda—famously and lovingly known in her own land as the Countess Teal. She was visiting in this country when the war broke out. If it is of any use to you, I'll add that she would be rich if Aladdin could only come to life and restore the splendors of the demolished castle, refill the chests of gold that have been emptied by the conquerors, and restock the farms that have been pillaged and devastated. In the absence of Aladdin, however, she is almost as poor as the ancient church mouse. So there you are, man. Half the royal progeny of Europe have been suitors for her hand, and the other half would be if they didn't happen to be of the same sex. Good-by. I must be on my way. He arose and held out his hand. "Good-by and good luck forever."

"You are a brick, O'Dowd. I want to see you again. You will always find me."

"Thanks. Don't issue any rash invitations. I might take you up."

Barnes started upstairs as soon as O'Dowd was off, urged by an eagerness that put wings on his feet and a thrill of excitement in his blood. Halfway up he stopped short. A new condition confronted him. What was the proper way to approach a person of royal blood? He would have to think.

Pausing at her door, he was at once aware of voices inside the room.

He rapped on the door, but so timidly that nothing came of it. His second effort was productive. He heard Miss Thackeray say "good gracious" and, after a moment, Miss Cameron's subdued: "What is it?"

"May I come in?" he inquired, rather ashamed of his vigor. "It's only Barnes."

"Come in," was her lively response. "It was awfully good of you, Miss Thackeray, to let me hear your lines. I think you will be a great success in the part."

"Thanks," said Miss Thackeray dryly. "I'll come in again and let you hear me in the third act. She went out, mumbling her lines as she passed Barnes without seeing him.

"I hope you will feel able to leave this place tomorrow, O'Dowd. We must get away almost immediately."

"Ah, you have been listening to O'Dowd, I see."

"Yes. He tells me it will be dangerous to—"

"He is right. It would be difficult for me to clear myself. No one would believe that I did not deliberately make off with the jewels. They would say that I—oh, it is too dreadful!"

"Don't worry about that," he exclaimed. "You have me to testify that—"

"How little you know of intrigue," she cried. "They would laugh at you and say that you were merely another fool who had lost his head over a woman. They would say that I duped you—" "No!" he cried vehemently. "Your people know better than you think. You are disheartened, discouraged. Things will look brighter tomorrow." "I don't know what I should do without you," she said.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Mr. Sprouse Continues to Be Perplexed, but Puts His Nose to the Ground. Barnes was abroad early. He was at breakfast when Peter Ames called up. An inspiration seized him when the chauffeur mentioned the wholesale exodus: he hired Peter forthwith and ordered him to report immediately—with the car. He was going up to Green Fancy for Miss Cameron's wardrobe.

Two minutes after Peter drove up to the Tavern he was on the way back to Green Fancy again, and seated beside him was Thomas Kingsbury Barnes, his new master.

"There was not a sign of human life about the place. Peter accompanied him upstairs to the room recently occupied by Miss Cameron.

They found two small leather trunks, thickly belabored, in the room upstairs. Both were locked.

"You take this one," said Barnes, "and I will manage the other." He was in a hurry to get away from the house. There was no telling when the government agents would descend upon the place.

Barnes helped Peter to lift the trunks into the car and then ordered him to start at once for Hart's Tavern.

"You can return later on for your things," he said.

"I got 'em tied up in a bundle in the garage, Mr. Barnes," he said. "Won't take a second to get 'em out." He hurried around the corner of the house.

A dry, quiet chuckle fell upon Barnes' ears. He glanced about in surprise and alarm. No one was in sight.

"Look up, young man," and the startled young man obeyed. His gaze halted at a window on the second story, almost directly over his head.

Mr. Sprouse was looking down upon him, his sharp features fixed in a cardiac grin.

"Well, I'll be d—!" burst from Barnes' lips.

"Surprised to see me, eh? If you're not in a hurry, I'd certainly appreciate a lift as far as the Tavern, old man. I'll be down in a jiffy. Stand aside! I'm going to drop." A moment later he swung over the sill, and dropped lightly to the ground eight feet below.

"See, here, Sprouse or whatever your name is—"

"Better hear me out," broke in Sprouse calmly. "I could drill a hole through you so quickly you'd never know what did it." He went on. His hand was in his coat pocket, and a quick glance revealed to Barnes a singularly impressive angle in the cloth, the point of which seemed to be directed squarely at his chest. "But I'm not going to do it. I just want to set myself straight with you. In a word, I never got anywhere near the room in which the jewels were hidden. This is God's truth, Barnes. I wasn't the only one who was trying to get the baubles, my friend. It was a game in which only the best man could win."

"I know the truth now about Roan and Paul," said Barnes significantly.

"You do?" sneered Sprouse. "I'll bet you a thousand to one you do not. The girl was led to believe that they were a couple of crooks and that they fixed me in that tavern down there. Isn't that what she told you? Well, that story was cooked up for her special benefit. Roan was the Baron Hedlund. Hedlund came up here a week or so ago to keep a lookout for his wife. The baroness is supposed to be deeply enamored of Prince Ugo. He found letters which seemed to indicate that she was planning to join the prince up here. When he heard of the arrival of a lady at Green Fancy the other afternoon, he got busy. I admit that I am the gentleman who telephoned the warning up to the prince

They tried to head the baron and his man off at the cross-roads, but he best them to it. If there was to be a fight, they didn't want it to happen anywhere near the house. I believe Ugo is the one who got the baron—or Roan, as you know him. Now, that is the true story of the little affair.

"To go back to my own troubles. When I got out into the hall night before last, after leaving her room, I heard voices whispering in a Prince Ugo's room. I went it up the stairway into the attic. Nothing happened, so I sneaked down to have a peep around. The door to Ugo's room was open, but there was no light on the inside. He came to the door and looked up and down the hall. Then some one else came out and started to sneak away. I leave you to guess the sex.

"Nicholas butted in at this unfortunate juncture. He made the mistake of his life. Ugo jumped back into his room. In less than a second he was out again. He landed squarely on Nicholas' back as the fellow turned to escape. I saw the steel flash. Poor old Nick went down in a heap, letting out a horrible yell. Ugo dragged him into the room and dashed back into his own. A moment later he came out again, yelling for help. There was only one thing left for me to do and that was to get out on the roof if possible, and wait for things to quiet down. I got out through a trap door and stayed there for an hour or so.

"Well, to shorten the story, I finally took a chance and slid down to the eaves where I managed to find the limb of a tree big enough to support me—just as if the Lord had ordered it put there for my special benefit. I was soon on the ground, and that meant safety for me. I had heard Ugo tell the others that Nicholas said the man who stabbed him was yours truly. Can you beat it?"

"And now comes the maddening part of the whole business. He said that the crown jewels were gone! The thief was running downstairs when he stepped to the door. If we are to find the crown jewels, my friend, we will not have to find Prince Ugo. He has them."

"I don't believe a word of this," said Barnes flatly. "You have the jewels and—"

"Look here, Mr. Barnes, I'm not going to double-cross you again. That's all over. I want to get that scurvy dog who knifed poor old Nick. If you can give me a lead, I'll try to run Prince Ugo down. And if I do, we'll get the jewels."

"We? You amuse me, Sprouse."

"Well, I can't do any more than give my promise, my solemn oath, or something like that. I can't give a bond, you know. I swear to you that if I lay hands on that stuff, I will deliver it to you. Might just as well trust me as Ugo."

"Get in the car," said Barnes suddenly. He had decided to take a chance with the resourceful, indefatigable rascal. There was something convincing about Sprouse's version of the affair at Green Fancy.

Barnes told him that he knew of Prince Ugo's flight. Sprouse looked thoughtful for a long time.

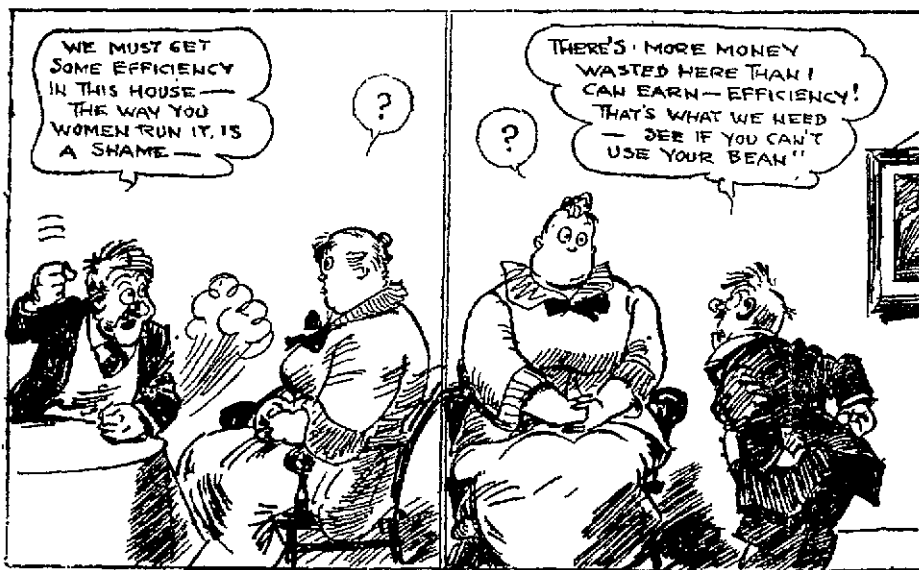

"So O'Dowd knows that I really was after the swag, eh? He believes I got it?"

"I suppose so."

"The only one who thinks I'm absolutely innocent is Ugo, of course—and Mrs. Van Dyke. That's good," Sprouse snatched his lips. "I've got a pretty fair idea where I can find Mr. Loch. It will take a little time—a couple of days, perhaps—but sooner or later he'll turn up in close proximity to the beautiful baroness."

EVERY DOLLAR HAS BEEN SPENT

Yes, every cent of the billions of dollars asked for in the Victory Liberty Loan has already been spent.

It is only a matter now of collecting the money for the payment of the debts.

They are glorious debts—debts the very paying of which is a celebration of Victory. The munitions which frightened the German staff into unexpectedly hurried surrender—the bringing home of millions of triumphant Yanks—the saving the lives of thousands who almost paid with death for the triumph—these are some of the debts we owe, and which we are going to pay with this Victory Loan.

Have you noticed the rugged healthiness of our soldiers—boys—their elastic step, and strong manly bearing. This condition is due to outdoor life, plenty of exercise, regular habits and wholesome food.

Your responsibilities may not permit you to work, live and play outdoors. You may have to grind away at a machine, a desk, or other employment, until your condition becomes stale. Ingestion, constipation, headaches and general debility follow. Your liver and kidneys fail to act properly, and your blood becomes poor and sluggish. You're not a health-stacker. Take Bliss Native Herb Tablets. They will relieve constipation, remove indigestion, help to prevent rheumatism and make you fit. Look for trade-mark. Our money-back guarantee on every box.

Mrs. Elsie Genk, 303 Duncannon St., Philadelphia, says she is glad she listened to the advice of her grandmother, "I suffered from stomach trouble and nervousness. My appetite was bad and I couldn't sleep. I suffered from pains at the heart. While I was in this condition my grandmother, Mrs. Miller, told me about Tanlac and advised me to try it. (I bought some and now I know from experience and the way I feel that I've gotten back my health. I only took six bottles of Tanlac. I sleep and eat better. Tanlac has done me so much good. It's a great spring tonic.")

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous,
Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, intemperance in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Tiredness, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood corpuscles, and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shrink, work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks, and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but a man near go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Molton's every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

No-tolerant is without doubt the greatest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.
